Trainer: Mrs. Vivien Chan

B.S. & M.Ed.

Mrs. Chan is Head of the Counselling & Development Centre of HKBU, in addition to her undergraduate and master's training in counselling from the University of North Texas, she has extensive training in SATIR (With John Banmen and Maria Gomori), NLP (NLP Comprehensive at Colorado) and Hypnosis (Anchor Point at Salt Lake City).

Mrs. Chan has rich experience in therapeutic work and in conducting training. She has accrued almost 30 years of experience in direct clinical practice, locally and in the US. Mrs. Chan has conducted numerous staff development and training programs for helping professionals and provided clinical supervisions for counseling staff and interns.

Aims & Objectives:

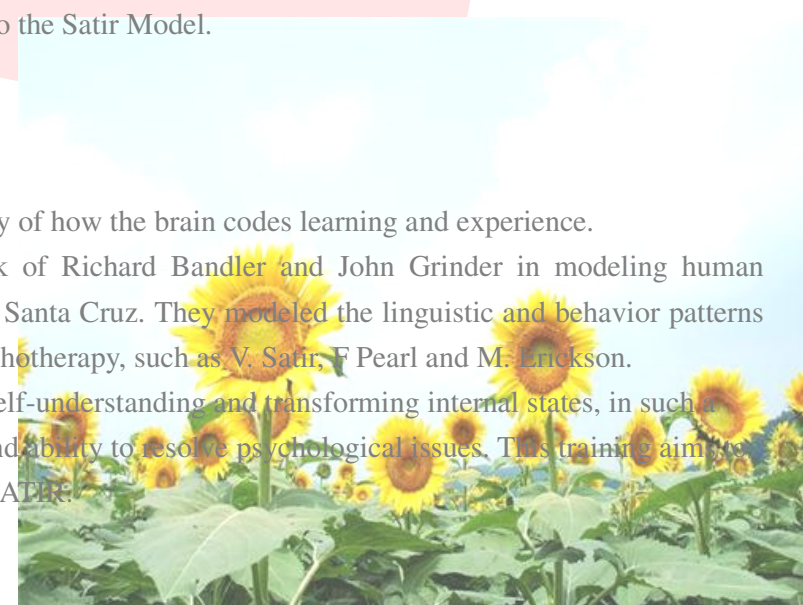

1. To review the philosophical assumptions of NLP;
2. To learn basic skills of NLP, applicable to the Satir Model.

Content:

Neuro-linguistic Programming (NLP), a study of how the brain codes learning and experience.

It began in the early 1970's with the work of Richard Bandler and John Grinder in modeling human excellence, at the University of California at Santa Cruz. They modeled the linguistic and behavior patterns of leading people, initially in the area of psychotherapy, such as V. Satir, F Pearl and M. Erickson.

It has become one of the powerful tools for self-understanding and transforming internal states, in such a way as to maximize one's personal growth and ability to resolve psychological issues. This training aims to explore NLP's application in the context of SATIR.
